

SCHOOLS AND PROGRAMS

A Note from the Director :

In four weeks, another school year will come to a close. As I reflect, I find myself smiling as I think about all the successes we've had. Measures of success sometimes come in the smallest of increments. We record the increase of seconds more time on task, the clarity of a greeting, and the mastery of a new skill. Three of our students successfully transitioned to their home schools this year, supporting our overall mission to change the direction of students lives. I can see our teachers and staff have made a difference for many of our students and families. I can honestly say it has been a good year .
